

PREPARING FOR END-OF-LIFE DECISIONS: How to avoid the Terri Schiavo incident

- Is it morally OK to refuse unwanted medical treatment?
- Who will make medical decisions for me if I'm unable?
- What role does artificial nutrition and hydration play?
- How do my Christian beliefs intersect with medical care decisions?

In the wake of the Terri Schiavo incident, people across America were asking these questions. If you'd like to be better equipped to answer these and other questions for yourself, your family and your congregation, plan to attend PREPARING FOR END OF LIFE DECISIONS: *How to avoid the Terri Schiavo incident.

This community education seminar will give Pastors and community leaders a better understanding of the use, importance and drawbacks of advance directives and health care power of attorney forms. This seminar will provide specifics regarding Hawaii law and medical practices. Participants will receive relevant legal documents for distribution at your church or community group and will be able to ask specific questions regarding the legal, medical and ethical issues surrounding end of life care. Participants will leave the seminar better equipped to respond to the questions and concerns of their faith communities. For more information, or to register, call (808) 230-2100.

SEMINAR DATE: Friday, June 10, 2005 (King Kamehameha Day)

TIME: 9:00 a.m.—12:00 noon

LOCATION: St. Stephen Retreat Center (Auditorium)
6301 Pali Highway

COST: Seminar is free but seating is limited.
Registration deadline June 8, 2005. Call 230-2100 to register.

PRESENTERS INCLUDE: Rev. Dr. Marc Alexander—Bioethicist and Pastor; Tom Rulon and Scott Makuakane—Estate Planning Attorneys; Kelly Rosati, JD—Director of Hawaii Family Forum / Hawaii Catholic Conference; and Retired Neurosurgeon Dr. William Won.

PREPARING FOR END-OF-LIFE DECISIONS: How to avoid the Terri Schiavo incident

- Is it morally OK to refuse unwanted medical treatment?
- Who will make medical decisions for me if I'm unable?
- What role does artificial nutrition and hydration play?
- How do my Christian beliefs intersect with medical care decisions?

In the wake of the Terri Schiavo incident, people across America were asking these questions. If you'd like to be better equipped to answer these and other questions for yourself, your family and your congregation, plan to attend PREPARING FOR END OF LIFE DECISIONS: *How to avoid the Terri Schiavo incident.

This community education seminar will give Pastors and community leaders a better understanding of the use, importance and drawbacks of advance directives and health care power of attorney forms. This seminar will provide specifics regarding Hawaii law and medical practices. Participants will receive relevant legal documents for distribution at your church or community group and will be able to ask specific questions regarding the legal, medical and ethical issues surrounding end of life care. Participants will leave the seminar better equipped to respond to the questions and concerns of their faith communities. For more information, or to register, call (808) 230-2100.

SEMINAR DATE: Friday, June 10, 2005 (King Kamehameha Day)

TIME: 9:00 a.m.—12:00 noon

LOCATION: St. Stephen Retreat Center (Auditorium)
6301 Pali Highway

COST: Seminar is free but seating is limited.
Registration deadline June 8, 2005. Call 230-2100 to register.

PRESENTERS INCLUDE: Rev. Dr. Marc Alexander—Bioethicist and Pastor; Tom Rulon and Scott Makuakane—Estate Planning Attorneys; Kelly Rosati, JD—Director of Hawaii Family Forum / Hawaii Catholic Conference; and Retired Neurosurgeon Dr. William Won.